Changing Perspectives

Time is a novelty of life, you never know what adventures fate has lying ahead for you, yet you can reflect on past events and grow and learn from them. Just as past experiences help everyone to grow and develop new ideas, new people help inspire and expand ideas through different perspectives. In addition to changes generated by new people, changes in the environment reveal new perspectives.

Delaware Valley College's 1997-1998 academic year brought numerous changes which impacted many areas of the college community. The foremost change came with the inauguration of a new president, D. Thomas Leamer, whose perspective on education is helping the college to change and grow to the next level. Don Feldscher was named the Special Assistant to the President following the resignation of Gordon Roberts. With new administrative leadership, Del Val begins a new journey toward the twenty-first century.

Academics saw changes in personal, curriculum, and services. Dr. Kenneth Clever became a new Associate Dean of Academic Administration. Also, Dr. Donna Kochis was selected as the Chairperson for the Criminal Justice Department. Curriculum changes included the addition of graduate studies in education and a new one and a half year certificate program in various areas including Ecological Landscape Design, Environmental Studies, and Floral Business. Students in need of aid with classes can now find the Tutoring Center on the first floor of Segal Hall. For hands on research, the Ornamental Horticulture Department and students are now able to occupy the Arthur Poley Greenhouse Complex.

This academic year provided students with upgraded education resources within various buildings on campus. The Joseph Krauskopf Library made advancements through technology with a computerized card catalog and check out system. In cooperation with resources from the library, students can go to Miller Hall for assistance in writing research papers through the new Writing Center.

Within the past year, there have been many improvements, changes, and additions to the Delaware Valley College campus. The most significant was the addition to the Samuel P. Mandell Building. The original portion of Mandell was improved with the renovation of the chemistry labs. Other physical changes included the paving of parking lots and Alumni Lane, and the painting of the Student Center and other buildings. Not all the changes were for refinement, some were to increase safety. The walk by Lake Archer leading to D Lot and the New Britain Classroom Building has always been a concern; however, the new lighting funded by the Student Government Board now helps ease students minds. Along with the lighting, security cameras were installed to insure safety to the students and their property.

Students organizations also saw change. Inter-Greek Council was created to build relations between Greek organizations and to provide opportunities for them to work together. Other groups were added to Del Val's organization roster. These are the Cultural Leadership Coalition, designed to raise diversity awareness and bring students of differing cultures together, and the DVC Step Team, formed by interested female students who perform during athletic and other campus events.

Overall, the past year at Delaware Valley College has been full of changes in a variety of areas and each of them has brought out a new perspective in its own way. Life is never complete without changing perspectives.

DEDICATION 1998

Mr. Howard Eyre

In collaboration with the senior class through a nomination process, the Cornucopia Staff chose a professor of Ornamental Horticulture as the dedicatee of the 1998 Cornucopia. Mr. Howard Eyre is a highly respected faculty member here at Delaware Valley College. He received his associates degree in Forestry at the Pennsylvania State University and both his bachelor and master degrees in Forestry at Stephen F. Austin State University.

Students regard Mr. Eyre more as a friend than a professor. Although you may not do well in his class, you never leave without learning something valuable you will use later in life. He makes his classes interesting and uses his own experiences to captivate the minds of his students.

His tests are said to be thought-provoking, but fair; expect the unexpected. Students feel comfortable going to him for help whether it is regarding personal or academic issues and he never turns them away. Some refer to him as a "coach in the classroom", bringing out the best in his students.

It's not uncommon to see Mr. Eyre at college functions. His involvement outside of the classroom is as important as his time spent in class. He is the advisor for the Student Government Board and the Landscape Nursery Club. He not only advises, but goes beyond those duties with involvement in A-Day with the tree-climbing demo and time in the dunking booth, trips with students to conventions and conferences or "just for fun" camping trips along the Appalachian Trail. These are only a few of the numerous things in which he takes part.

Away from Del Val, Mr. Eyre is very dedicated to his family and enjoys spending time with them. He also enjoys woodworking, golfing, and landscaping in his spare time.

His exchanges with the students whether in the classroom or outside shows that he truly cares about them. When asked to describe Mr. Eyre students said he is knowledgeable, multi-talented, and unique. Overall, Mr. Eyre has a "consistent, friendly and practical approach to life and teaching."

Seniors

AS OUR SENIOR YEAR PROGRESSES, WE BEGIN A CHANGE OF PERSPECTIVE: FROM THAT OF A LAB PARTNER TO THAT OF A CO-WORKER; FROM A WORK STUDY TO AN EMPLOYEE; FROM THAT OF THE STUDENT TO THAT OF THE GRADUATE. ALTHOUGH OUR PERSPECTIVES CHANGE, WE MUST ALWAYS KEEP LEARNING, FOR THAT IS LIFE. TO LEARN IS TO LIVE.

First I must thank my family for their support and help without my parents my college experience would never be. Next, I must thank my two best friends, Peanut and Aim for saving me from psych! You guys have helped me become the person I am. Peanut and Aim remember Samuel downstairs, and Peanut remember Samuel upstairs. Without you two I most likely would have never met my man and I thank you for that. I am so lucky to have the friends I have.

Thank you to my family for giving me the opportunity to come here, because I met a great bunch of kids here. I've seen a lot of these kids come and go through my four years here, and I just want to say something to the kids before I leave this place, "Thanks for the memorable moments and the great times here." P.S. I will see you on top of the mountain with me.

C RUIsing TO RELAXATION

OF CALLS IN KEY WEST, THE BAHAMAS, AND THE ISLAND OF COCO CAY. THE CRUISE, LASTING 5 DAYS BETWEEN JANUARY 12-16 1998, RAN ABOUT $600. THE SENIORS LEFT MIAMI ON THE ROYAL CARIBBEAN SOVEREIGN OF THE SEAS. JOE BOUTUREIRA SAID OF THE OCEANLINER THAT IT WAS SIMPLY "A TREMENDOUS SHIP".

THE FIRST PORT OF CALL WAS KEY WEST, FLORIDA, WHERE SENIORS KAYAKED AND WALKED AROUND THE ISLAND. THE SECOND PORT OF CALL WAS NASSAU, BAHAMAS WHERE AGGIES PARTICIPATED IN THE LOCAL NIGHT LIFE AFTER WALKING AROUND THE STRAW MARKET. ALSO IN THE BAHAMAS, AT COCO CAY, SENIORS SNORKELED AND SUNNED

ON THE BEACH.

THIS CRUISE PROVED TO BE A GOOD WAY TO RELAX, GET SOME SUN, AND REINFORCE OLD FRIENDSHIPS IN A WARM AND SUNNY SETTING. ONLY THE BAR TAB COULD RUIN THE LASTING MEMORIES FROM THE CRUISE.

Left: Mike Ruth, Tim McNatt, and Joe Boutureira enjoy the sea breeze on the "Yellow Boat" off of Nassau in the Bahamas.

AS THE SENIOR YEAR ROLLS ALONG, ANTICIPATION FOR GRADUATION BEGINS TO RUN HIGH AS DOES EXCITEMENT FOR "GETTING OUTTA HERE"

THE ONLY PROBLEM IS, THERE ARE A COUPLE OF THINGS THAT NEED TO BE DONE FIRST. THINGS

SUCH AS MEETING ALL GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS LIKE THAT EMPLOYMENT REPORT YOU'VE PUT OFF FOR TWO YEARS. OR REMEMBERING ALL OF THE "CULTURAL ENRICHMENT" YOU'VE HAD OVER THE LAST FOUR YEARS. AND DON'T FORGET ABOUT THAT SENIOR SEMINAR. YA KNOW,

THE ONE THAT'S DO NEXT WEEK AND YOUR FILE JUST CRASHED.

ASIDE FROM ALL OF THIS WRAPPING UP, SENIORS HAVE TO START PREPARING FOR THE REST OF THEIR LIVES. SENIORS HAVE TO PREPARE FOR A CHANGE OF PERSPECTIVE. SENIORS HAVE TO LEAVE DEL VAL.

FOR SOME SENIORS, THAT MEANS PREPARING RESUMES AND GOING TO INTERVIEWS, WHILE FOR OTHERS IT MEANS SELECTING AND APPLYING TO GRADUATE SCHOOLS. ALL IN ALL, OUR SENIOR YEAR PROVES TO BE THE BUSIEST.

Senior Chemistry major Michelle Donovan presents her seminar on the production of diamonds to her classmates.

H I K I N G A L O N G T H E A T

THE TRIP TO VIRGINIA IN TWO DEL VAL ISSUED VANS WAS LONG. THE TRIP FROM VIRGINIA THE NEXT DAY WAS EVEN LONGER. DUE TO THE WEIRD WINTER THIS YEAR, THE ONLY ACCESS ROAD WAS CLOSED DUE TO FALLEN TREES. ALTHOUGH DISAPPOINTED, THE AGGIES HEADED BACK NORTH TO PINE GROVE FURNACE, PA AND PICKED UP THE APPALACHIAN TRIAL THERE.

AS WE UNLOADED OUR GEAR AT THE PARKING LOT, WE NOTICED JUST HOW SOGGY IT WAS. IT WAS A MOTLEY CREW OF CAMPER IN RENTED, BORROWED, OR OLD BOY SCOUT GEAR., RAINGEAR OF UTMOST IMPORTANCE. ONCE ON THE TRAIL, IT WAS LIKE WALKING THROUGH A SMALL STREAM, WATER RUNNING DOWN THE MOUNTAIN PATH, DEEP ENOUGH TO FLOOD YOUR BOOTS.

AS ALL GOOD HIKING STORIES GO, IT WAS WELL WORTH IT. AFTER A HARD TREK UP THE STEEPER PART OF THE TRAIL, THE RAIN CEASED AND THE SUN DRIED THE CAMPER IN ALL ITS

GLORY. ALTHOUGH CAMPING IN MARCH PROVED TO BE A BIT CHILLY, AT SHELTERS BUILT AND MAINTAINED BY VOLUNTEERS WERE GREATLY APPRECIATED. AFTER A DAY OF SHORT HIKE, IT WAS DECIDED TO FORGO ANOTHER NIGHT OF FREEZING TEMPERATURES AND TO HEAD BACK DOWN THE MOUNTAIN.

GEARING UP FOR THE END

AT DEL VAL, GRADUATION IS A MUCH ANTICIPATED EVENT, YET WHEN THE DAY ARRIVES, SENIORS FIND THEMSELVES FACED WITH MIXED EMOTIONS.

MOST HECTIC IS THE ACTUAL DAY OF COMMENCEMENT, WHEN FAMILY AND FRIENDS ARE THERE TO WISH THE SENIORS WELL AND LAST FAREWELLS ARE SAID.

INSPIRATION & REALITY

AFTER THE PROCESSIONAL, ALLISON MAJEWSKI OPENED COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES WITH A STIRRING RENDITION OF THE "STAR SPANGLED BANNER". DR. RICHARD ZIEMER GAVE AN INVOCATION AND GERARD MARINI WELCOMED SENIORS AND THEIR FAMILIES. COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER CONGRESSMAN JAMES GREENWOOD TOLD THE GRADUATES ABOUT THE GOOD, THE BAD AND THE DEAL. HE CHALLENGED EACH GRADUATE TO USE THEIR ADVANTAGES IN LIFE TO BETTER THE WORLD AROUND THEM.

WITH DEAN NEIL VINCENT ANNOUNCING, PRESIDENT THOMAS LEAMER AND ASSOCIATE DEANS KEN-NETH CLEVER, DOLORES GIOFFRE, AND DOMINIC MONTILEONE CONFERRED BACHELOR AND ASSOCIATE DEGREES ON 325 MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF 1998.

AFTER THE LAST OF THEIR CLASSMATES RECEIVED THEIR DEGREES, THE SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS READ A LITTLE POEM ABOUT GROWING UP.

RAYMOND FUNKHOUSER OF THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION THEN WELCOMED THE NEWEST DVC ALUMNI.

TO CLOSE THE CEREMONIES, STEPHANIE SCARBOROUGH PERFORMED ON THE CLARINET, ALLISON MAJEWSKI SANG THE ALMA MATER, AND DR. ZIEMER GAVE THE BENEDICTION.

The 16th Annual Career Day at Delaware Valley College was sponsored by the Office of Career and Life Education on February 25, 1998. This activity was provided to help the students network and find jobs. It is a great opportunity for students to make contact with a large number of companies and schools in a very brief period of time. Also, the contacts made are in person and may prove more effective than simply sending a resume. Seniors investigate prospective positions as they look forward to graduation. Undergraduates also attend for summer internships so they are able to complete the 960 hours of employment that is mandatory for all students. These hours help students prepare themselves for the real world and gives them an idea about what they might like to do with their field of study.

Over 100 recruiters attended this year's Career Day covering all majors and offering positions of Full Time, Part Time, Internship, Cooperative Positions, and Summer Opportunities.

Has anyone noticed a difference in Mandell lately? If so, you might be wondering what all this construction is about. Del Val in conjunction with Thomas Jefferson University are building The Jefferson Center of Biomedical Research. A section of the building will be occupied as laboratories and office space by Thomas Jefferson. One of the offices that will be in the new wing will be the main office for the Hepatitis B Foundation.

This multi-million dollar project was announced on April 9, 1997 at the Founder's Day ceremonies by Dr. Joshua Feldstein. "This is an exciting development for our college since sophisticated basic science research will be conducted with the latest technology and our students will have the opportunity to interact with world-renowned scientists. The cooperative efforts of the two institutions will help Delaware Valley College to become both the cultural and research center of Buck's county," said Feldstein.

In conjunction with the addition to Mandell, the chemistry labs have been renovated. Through a collaboration of money sources from the Mandell Foundation, alumni, faculty, the Rohm and Haas company and the College's Renewal and Renovations fund. Faculty have moved some offices to make room for an instrumental computer lab. This lab has an immediate impact on the education of the students by enabling the professors to better the students education.

New President Brings New Perspective

Story by Andrea Snyder

On July 14, 1997 Delaware Valley College instated our new President, Dr. Thomas C. Leamer. He is the eleventh President that the college has had since it opened up over one hundred years ago.

Dr. Leamer was raised in Williamsburg, Pennsylvania where he grew up on a hundred acre farm with his two sisters. He attended college at both the University of Wisconsin and Penn State University.

Before coming to Delaware Valley College he held the position of Executive Vice President at the State University of New York. Besides being the College's President, he is also a full professor of Plant Science. He specializes in Agronomy, Field Crops and Soil and Environmental Sciences.

Dr. Leamer is one of the more involved Presidents at DVC. He is not weary about getting hands-on experience. Whether it's a sports banquet or the Farm Show you can expect him to be there supporting the school.

The President lives on campus with his wife, Susan. Together they have four children and eight grandchildren.

Act 101 was established by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in 1971 and has been at Delaware Valley College since 1987. The program recruits highly motivated students who are Pennsylvania residents and meet the eligibility requirements. Program services include counseling and tutoring throughout the students' four years as needed to assist students with academic and personal issues. Help is provided in areas with other issues such as study skills, time management and adjustment to college life. In addition, career choices are explored, cultural activities are offered, and workshops such as stress management and time management are also offered. There is a three day summer orientation program for incoming freshmen. New to the program this year is a textbook library where Act 101 students may sign out books for semester use and swap books with other Act 101 students.

RAPE

S Y S T E M S

Rape Aggression Defense Systems was founded in 1989 by Lawrence N. Nadeau, after years of requests for a self defense program tailored specifically for women. Mr. Nadeau has been a noted martial artist and law enforcement officer for the past fifteen years, with the City of Poquoson Police Department in Virginia. The R.A.D. Systems are the only self defense programs ever endorsed by the International Association of Campus Law Enforcement Administrators. All the R.A.D. programs place emphasis on self-reliance, self-realization of power, and empowerment. There are a number of reasons why this program is offered to women only. Most rapes are committed by men against women, therefore this class teaches women physical self defense. As a teaching method for R.A.D. the women work with one another to perfect the defense moves. The instructors may be male or female and they are there to teach the self defense system.

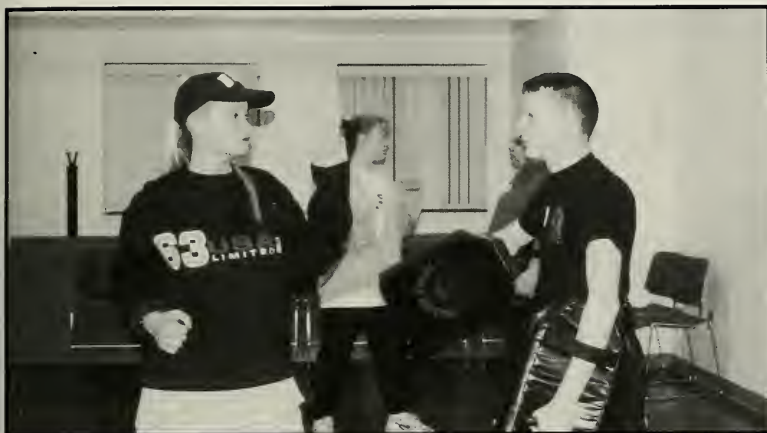

The R.A.D. program was brought to Delaware Valley College by Chris Daley, Director of Public Safety and Security. Chris had to go through special training in order to get certified as an instructor. R.A.D. started at Delaware Valley during the Spring of 1996 and is offered to those on campus and to anyone in the community. Now, two more officers at Delaware Valley College are Both the new students and their families enjoyed the hospitality of The Office of Orientation and New Student Programs during their first day. Parents learn about letting go and students learn how DVC will be their second family and home. Throughout the day students and their families are given an opportunity to share what they have learned with one another.

The second day students are given a chance to see what it really feels like to be a student at DVC. They are sent to a mini class, meet with their advisor, and plan out their fall semester schedules. In addition to the scholarly side of DVC, students are also introduced to various other dimensions of campus life through informative workshops.

By the third day, students can leave knowing that when they return in September, they will have a head start on classes and friendships.

While most people just use Labor Day weekend as an excuse to go down to the shore or have a picnic, Delaware Valley College Students know that it means one thing - moving in. With classes starting on Tuesday, Welcome Week is the perfect time for DVC's newest students to become situated. With moving in and saying goodbye to parents being the first order of business, Welcome Week helps students adapt with fun programs, themed dinners, and trips to K-mart for everything that you forgot at home.

There is a dance, karaoke, and movies planned for those who aren't quite ready to begin their homework.

In an effort to promote talent at Del Val, the Class of 2000 held their 2nd Annual Talent Show. This year, the show was incorporated with Family Weekend. Students and staff came out to show their talents and school spirit as they competed for monetary prizes.

This year's entries included such versatile acts as: singers, dancers, magicians, percussion acts and solo performers.

The performances added a unique touch to the Delaware Valley College community and their families alike.

Del Val faculty, staff, and administration were in attendance working hard with the Class of 2001 as they provided their services as dealers and attendants for the night.

In addition to the casino games, there was also sumo wrestling, speed pitching, bouncy boxing, and a money pit. For those taking a break from all the action, there was food, music, and dancing. All in all it was a wonderful night for over 200 participants.

“Dedicated To Agriculture”

Delta Tau Alpha, DTA, is the first National Honor Society to be formally recognized at Delaware Valley College. DTA started in 1960 by the National Association of College Teachers of Agriculture, NACTA. DTA is a National Honor Society for non-land grant colleges and universities. Non-land grant colleges are not provided with land or money from the state. The purpose of DTA is to: recognize academic excellence among agricultural students, encourage high ethical standards, promote professionalism in Agriculture, and provide services and cooperation to Agriculture institutions. This National Honor Society has twenty-three active chapters and over 4,000 members. To be inducted into DTA the students must have nine credits in Agriculture, completed forty-five credits, and be ranked in the top thirty-five percent of their class.

The Delaware Valley College chapter of DTA was installed in the spring of 1997. There are seven students responsible for installing DTA at Delaware Valley College. They are Sarah Campbell, Christy McAllister, Hue Quen, Jessica Schaub, Laurie Smith, Anita Snyder, and Ruth Southall. During the fall of 1997, officers were elected and letters were sent to potential new candidates. This year the chapter is up and running. Some of the activities that this new organization has had are a welcome back picnic, fund-raisers, and an initiation ceremony, in which thirty-four new members were inducted. The DVC chapter of Delta Tau Alpha would like to form an Honor Council and help start other honor societies.

The Mid-Atlantic Horticulture Field Day is sponsored each year by a different college. There are several landscaping contests for the students to participate in. This year there were sixteen different competitions. DVC sent fourteen students and Mr. Eyre to Suffolk County Community College Eastern Campus. The contests give the students to show off their landscaping skills and allows the professors to see that what they teach us really does sink in. The contests are not limited to students interested in landscaping. The college took along several students who had no background with plants, yet they placed well, enjoyed themselves, and can not wait until next year to compete again. DVC brought back the third place award for the overall competition. Congratulations to a job well done.

Story by KDB. The Cornucopia does not appear by itself, but numerous students dedicate time and energy to put it together from scratch. When the pages are first set up on the computer, they are completely blank, but when they are sent to the publisher they are full of what is in your hands. This timely publication with deadlines and hours of hard work would not be possible without the members of the staff who do it all from choosing the year's theme, taking pictures, writing captions and stories to putting it on the computer and shipping it off to the publisher. The Adviser, Nancy DeBord and Co-Editors Lori Gregalis and Kelly Barnes keep things running smoothly and up to date making sure not to miss an important event or person. With weekly staff meetings and various workshops, the "Cornucopians" put your memories in a lifetime memory book. This year bids farewell to some great members of

The Delaware Valley College Cross-Country teams finished the season with a number of new freshmen. Coach "Doc" Berthold recruited nine freshmen runners.

The men's team was led by senior captain John Knudson. John, a first time runner four years ago, placed first for the mens team in all the races this season. One of the new recruits, freshman Rob MacDonald, ran second for the team. Rob improved with every race and will be a bright spot for next season. A third and fourth positions battle developed between freshman Steve Lafferty and junior Scott Kingston, as they pushed each other all season. The team rounded out with freshman Cory Pernich, senior Chuck Erway, freshman Josh Lerner, and freshmn Ian McDermott.

The women's team was led by a strong freshman Corinna Strange. Corinna, a 20 minute three mile runner, contributed greatly to the team by placing first for the team in all races she competed in. Placed solidly in second all season was senior Emily Hayes. Emily, another first time runner four years ago, made great improvements within her time here at Del Val. Taking third was junior Ella Pandy, who was battling an illness all season, gave it her all in every race she competed in. The rest of the team consisted of junior Jill Chambers, senior Steph Townsend, senior Kelly Musselman, sophomore Sandra Tatarynw, sophomore Larisa Wagner, sophomore Kristen Salvensen, and freshman Tracy Bodnar.

Winners were announced at the Annual Cross Country Banquet. The MVP for the men's team was John Knudson. John received this award for contribution to the team over the season. The MVP for the women was Steph Townsend. Steph won this for commitment and dedication to the team. The coach's award went to Chuck Erway, for showing his determination by coming back from an injury that kept him out of last season. Finally, the winner of the Dibble MAC award went Emily Hayes.

Now that another long hard season has finally come to an end, the members of both teams are looking forward to some hard earned R&R. You can bet that at the beginning of next year they'll be ready to improve on the last season.

The Delaware Valley College volleyball team, under head coach Sondra Stoczko, finished with another record-breaking season. The team was 18-14 overall, and 3-3 in the Middle Atlantic Conference (MAC) - Freedom League play. The 18 wins broke last year's record-mark of 16. This is the Aggies second consecutive winning season. The three league wins were also the first for the team since 1993. an Aggie seasonal record while her career total of 202 in just two years is tops in DVC history. Setter Terra Lutz also set a Delaware Valley record as the sophomore dished out 875 assists on the season. Lutz, who already owns the career mark with 1,470 assists, ranked sixth in the MAC with her 7.96 assists per game. She joined Bishard on the All-Tournament Team at Lebanon Valley College. Senior Tracy Mann became the Aggies all-time leader in blocks as her single-season record of 85 rejections raise her career total to 206. She also added 176 kills and a .216 hitting percentage. Freshman Wendy Stellingwerf and junior Angie Gaido finished fourth and fifth on the team with 113 and 95 kills respectively. Stellingwerf added 196 digs and 55 assists while Gaido tied for second on the team with 37 blocks. Senior Monica Starr and junior Rebecca Andrew contributed to the team as defensive specialists. Story by Charles Erway and Matt Levy

The Delaware Valley College football team finished the 1997 season with a 5-5 record following a thrilling, 40-37 overtime victory over Lebanon Valley College for the last game of the season. It marks the first .500 campaign for the Aggies since 1988.

Del Val posted a 5-5 record in 1988 but went a combined 20-59 in the next eight years. During that span, two of its players were killed in separate accidents while two coaches passed away.

One of those tragic losses was head coach and 1970 alumnus Chris Bockrath, who returned to his alma mater before the 1996 season to rebuild the program. However, he never had a chance to see the turnaround as he died in February of '97. Glen Leonard, who was an assistant under Bockrath, took over with prior head coaching experience and led the team to a memorable season.

"It has been a remarkable year and one I'll always remember and treasure," Leonard said. "Our goal as a coaching staff going into the season was to have our kids be in a position to win games in the fourth quarter. We did that and the players came through time after time. This year's team has changed the whole outlook on Delaware Valley College football."

The season came to a joyous end with a wild overtime finish against the Flying Dutchmen for the Aggies' second overtime win of the season. They defeated FDU-Madison, 47-44, in triple overtime, to get the seasons third win.

The leader of the team was sophomore quarterback, Joe Shenko. Shenko threw for a school-record 16 touchdowns on the season while his 1547 yards ranks as the second-highest, single-season total in Aggie history.

Junior cornerback, Terrance Oliver, broke a school record on a interception and return. He returned the ball 100 yards to brake the old record of 92 yards set ironically by Bockrath in 1969. Oliver also finished the year with 46 tackles and tied for the conference lead with seven interceptions.

Sophomore tailback, Jamal Lewis, posted 447 yards on the season. This made him the Aggies leading rusher.

Senior wide receiver Bob Leach caught a team-high 42 passes on the season to tie for fourth place on the single-season reception list. He finished his career as the second all-time leading receiver in Aggie history with 128 catches for 1622 yard and six touchdowns.

The Delaware Valley College women's soccer team, under head coach Kevin Doherty, ended its season with a 12-7 overall record. This marked the third consecutive winning season in just four years of varsity play for the Aggies. The 12 victory also set a school record, breaking the mark of 11 from last season. Of the seven losses, five were decided by one goal including games against Division II foes Kutztown and Millersville and Division III nationally-ranked Drew.

All-American Emilie Repogle paced the team in scoring for the third straight year as the junior collected 16 goals and 12 assists. The reigning MAC-Freedom League Most Valuable Player and First Team All-Region tied the Aggies single-season assists record with 12 assists and broke the career mark with 27. Repogle now hold or shares all scoring records (goals, assists and points in game, season and career) at Del Val. With 75 goals and 27 assists for 177 career points, Repogle will enter her senior season with a chance to reach remarkable milestones of 100 goals and/or 200 points.

Jennifer Keim and Britt Ingvertsen finished second and third respectively in both goals and points. Keim, a sophomore forward, doubled her goal total from a year ago as she finished with 10 goals. Ingvertsen, a freshman mid-fielder, tallied nine goals including five goals in the last three games of the season.

Junior midfielder Tracy Decker had the finest season of her collegiate career as she nearly matched her point total from the previous two years. Decker, who entered 1997 with 11 career points, scored two goals and added six assists for 10 points.

Freshman Stacy Richenderfer and Laura Hansen had productive rookie campaigns. Richenderfer, a forward, recorded three goals and two assist while Hansen collected a goal and four assists from her mid-field position.

Senior defenders Qwendryth Poore and Rebecca Ripley, along with sophomore sweeper Tifanie Sbriscia, keyed an Aggie defense that allowed just 1.1 goals and 11.5 shots per games. Poore added two assists while Ripley tallied one assist.

When a ball reached Del Val's net, sophomore keeper Colleen Kearns was there to stop it. Kearns, playing her first collegiate ball, recorded 140 saves and six shutouts.

Sophomore midfielder/forward Diann Doderer came off the bench and produced two assists on the season. Freshman Erin Range and Jennifer Vennebush added an assist apiece. Fellow rookie Elisabeth Polhamus rounded out the roster.

The Delaware Valley College women's basketball team, under coach Laura Rotz, finished the 1997-98 season with an 8-16 record overall. The win total was an increase over last year's 6-18 mark.

Leading the way for the Aggies was MAC-Freedom League Second Team All-Star Jeanne Waznak. The sophomore guard led the conference, for the second year in a row, in scoring and free throw percentage. She scored an average of 19.5 points per game and shot .880 from the line. Her shooting touch from the foul line set both a school and MAC record. Waznak also ranked fourth in the MAC with a three-point percentage of .360, and was tied for sixth for three-pointers per game averaging 1.4.

Despite missing two games with an ankle injury, Waznak's 430 points tied her for the fifth-highest single-season scoring total in Delaware Valley history. She scored a school-record 40 points in the team's season-final win at Drew.

Waznak, moved into sixth place on the Aggie all-time scoring list with 914 points. She also averaged 3 rebounds, 2.3 and 1.7 assists on the year while being named to the MAC Honor Roll on three occasions.

Senior Kristin Bucci, finished second on the team in scoring with 9.6 points per game while pacing the squad with 79 assists and 58 steals. Her average 2.4 steals per game tied for ninth in the MAC and her total of eight thefts at Wilkes was the second highest total in the conference this year. Bucci ended her two-year career at Delaware Valley with 583 points.

Freshman Enid Dunmire, was a MAC-Freedom league Rookie of the Year candidate as the center played in all 24 games, with 20 starts, and led the conference in rebounding with 10.9 boards per game. She also placed second in the MAC in blocked shots with an average of 2.5 rejections per contest.

Dunmire's total of 59 blocks broke the school record of 50 set by Andrea Shumack in 1991-92, while her eight blocks in the team's win over FDU-Madison in January also set a new college mark. Dunmire's 262 rebounds, ranks fifth on the Aggie single-season list. She also finished third on the team in scoring with 8.9 points per game.

Fellow freshman Erica Crockett, and Jessica Perry, also saw significant time as starters.

Crockett played in 23 games and was second in rebounding and blocks, averaging 6.1 boards per game and 23 blocks. The forward finished fourth on the team in scoring with 6.1 points per game and averaged 8.2 points and 8.4 rebounds in her starts. Perry, a guard, started 22 games averaging 5.5 points, 4.2 rebounds, and 2.7 assists each outing.

Forward Michele Wikiera, and guard/forward Stephanie Cullons, played in all 24 games and averaged 3.8 and 3.4 points respectively.

Senior center Tracy Mann, started six of the 23 games she played in and averaged 1.8 points and 3.3 rebounds per game.

The Delaware Valley College men's basketball team, under head coach Dave Duda, finished the 1997-98 season with a 12-12 record overall, 6-8 in Middle Atlantic Conference-Freedom League play.

The Aggies' success is a dramatic turnaround from a winless season in 1995-96. The team went 0-23 and lost by an average of 30 points a game prior to Duda's arrival and improved to 4-19 last year with a 10.6 point differential.

This year, Delaware Valley was in contention for a MAC playoff berth through the last week of the regular season and out scored its opponents, 1761-1723. Duda was voted by his peers as the MAC-Freedom League Coach of the Year for his efforts.

A major key to the turnaround was the play of the freshmen, who accounted for 80.2 percent of the team's scoring total. The top four scorers on the team were freshmen, including MAC-Freedom League Rookie of the Year and Second Team All-Star Jimmy Garrett.

Garrett scored a freshman-record 469 points, averaging 19.5 points per game, to tie the sixth-highest scoring total in Delaware

Valley history. The guard led or tied for the team high in scoring in 17 of the 24 games, he also paced the team with 49 steals while placing second in assists and three-pointers, with 92 assists and 41 three-pointers. Garrett's numbers ranked him 7th in steals, 8th in scoring, and 10th in assists in the MAC-Freedom League.

Freshman center Tyree Jones, placed second on the team in scoring, averaging 15 points per game, and rebounding, averaging 7.8 rebounds per game, and was named to the MAC-Freedom League All-Rookie Team.

Jones led the MAC and set a school-record with a .652 field goal percentage, with 233 attempts he made 152 baskets, breaking the previous mark of .631 by Dwight Weldon in 1986-87. During a 12 game stretch midway through the season, Jones shot an amazing .800 percent from the field. He also led the team and was tied for fourth in the conference with 40 blocks.

Freshman Jameel Hawthorne, was also named to the MAC-Freedom league All-Rookie Team as the guard led the conference and tied a school record with 71 three-pointers. Hawthorne averaged 11 points per game and shot .390 from beyond the arc, hitting 71 of 182 attempts.

Junior forward Kevin Burton, led the Aggies and finished fourth in the MAC in rebounding with nine boards per game. Burton was ranked as high as fifth nationally in rebounding during the season and added 7.3 points per game.

Sophomore guard Jim Greenberg, became the first player in Delaware Valley men's basketball history to record 100-plus assists twice in a career. Greenberg dished out 104 assists (third in MAC) for the fourth-highest school total and topped his personal mark of 103 as a freshman. He also added 3.2 points and 2.5 rebounds per game.

The Aggies have come a long way in less than two years. Through good coaching and team

Delaware Valley College freshmen wrestlers Mike Jones and Bryan Klass earned All-American accolades at the NCAA Division III Championship this past season.

Jones finished sixth at 118 pounds while Klass took eighth at 134 pounds. Jones, who also captured the East Regional title during the season, ended his rookie campaign with a 32-9 record. Klass won both the middle Atlantic Conference and East Regional crowns and wrapped up his first year with a 8-8 mark.

"Both Mike and Bryan wrestled tremendously at nationals," said Aggie head coach Robert Marshall. "It's not easy to become an All-American as a senior let alone as a freshman and he honors speaks highly of Mike and Bryan's ability and determination."

The duo became just the sixth and seventh freshmen in the storied history of DVC wrestling to earn All-American honors as rookies. They joined current assistant coach Shaun Smith, Rich Williams, Garth Lakitsky, Mark Ambrose, and Brian Marrifield in the illustrious group. In all, the Aggies have produced 35 All-Americans under Marshall's tutelage. This is an excellent tribute to Marshall as a coach and mentor.

Jones, the eight seed, won his first national tournament match with a victory over Dusty Rich of Norwich. However, a major decision loss to Jay Field of Buena Vista dropped the rookie in the consolation bracket.

Jones bounced back with a convincing decision over Ruben Prophete of SUNY-Oneonta and a victory against Cory Bauer of Wisconsin-Stevens Point in the first two rounds of consolations. That set up a match with the third seed Zac Weiglein of Wartburg in consolations. That dropped him into the fifth/sixth place match with Robert Rivas of Luther and Jones was pinned.

Klass, who was unseeded, started tournament action with a decision over Britt Marolf of Simpson in consolation quarterfinals but fell to fourth seed Zac Weiglein of Wartburg in consolations. That dropped him into the seventh/eighth place match with Ben Hahlen of John Carroll and Jones was pinned.

Klass lost a decision to the third seed, John Hatfield of Simpson, in the consolation quarterfinals and that dropped him into the seventh/eighth place match with Ben Hahlen of John Carroll.

Story by Chuck Erway and Matt Levy. The most successful season in Delaware Valley College baseball history to an end recently and, although the Aggies were not awarded an invitation to the NCAA Division III playoffs, it was a year worth of highlights.

The team, under head coach Frank Wolfgang and assistant head coach Bob Altieri, finished the season with a school-record 28 wins and a Middle Atlantic Conference-Freedom League Championship. It was Delaware Valley's first league title since 1984 when it captured what was then known as the MAC-Northeast Section. The team also entered with the national rankings for the first time ever as they were 29th in the Division III poll prior to the MAC playoffs.

The Aggies began the playoffs with a 14-4 victory over Juniata College but fell to Allentown College in the next game. With elimination facing them in the eye, they rallied from a four-run and a three-run deficit to knock off MAC-Commonwealth League Champion Albright College, 11-8, to reach the MAC Championship game. However, Delaware Valley's run at the title came to an end in the next game with a loss to Allentown.

Leading the way for the Aggies was 1998 MAC-Freedom League MVP and three-time First Team All-Star Matt Altieri. The senior centerfielder paced the team in virtually every category this year as he batted .380 and set single-season records with 57 hits, 52 runs and 11 home runs. He tied the school mark with 36 RBI's and also led the way with a .667 slugging percentage, a .440 on-bas percentage and 27 stolen bases.

Another key reason for the team's success was the return of Jason Stackhouse. Stackhouse, who played for Delaware Valley in 1995, returned to the college this past fall and quickly became the ace of an improved pitching staff that posted 243 strikeouts and a 3.68 ERA. Stackhouse started 14 games, went 11-2 with a 2.87 ERA and was named a MAC-Freedom League First Team All-Star. He struckout 96 batters in 94 innings while allowing just five walks. The junior's base on balls ratio of 0.48 ranks second in NCAA Divisions III history for a single season.

Junior pitcher John Schilling received MAC-Freedom league Second Team All-Star honors following the best season of his collegiate career. After going 3-3 with a 7.19 ERA in 1997, Schilling improved to 9-3 and a 2.08 ERA in 15 appearances. He also struckout 75 batters in 73 innings while allowing just 14 walks.

Ben Lowell and Mike Ricci combined for eight wins 58 strikeouts. Lowell, a senior, went 4-3 with 39 strikeouts and 3.29 ERA. Ricci, a junior, posted a 4-1 record with one save and a team-best 2.79 ERA.

Senior Jim Brezack saw his collegiate career come to an end. The second baseman batted .315 with 29 runs, 32 RBI's and a team-bes nine doubles. Brezack became Delaware Valley's all-time RBI's leader with 92 after posting single-season record last year with 11 doubles and 36 RBI's.

Fellow senior Frank Green was named a MAC-Freedom League Second Team All-Star for the third time in his career. A four-year starter behind the plate, Green batted .311 with a home run, 27 runs and 18 RBI's.

The Delaware Valley College boys baseball team had nothing to be ashamed of this season. They all put forth their best effort and with that they received the MAC-Freedom League title. Their hard work was rewarded this year, and with it the baseball team was also finally recognized in a nation wide poll.

Story by Chuck Erway and Matt Levy. The Delaware Valley College softball team recently completed its 1998 season. The Aggies, under head coach Linda Fleischer, went 5-24 overall.

Delaware Valley had 11 players on its roster, including six freshmen. Leading the group of rookies were Kelly Berger and Jillian Baker. Berger started all 29 games and the infielder paced the Aggies with a .349 average. She also added four doubles and 16 RBI's. Baker, an outfielder, batted .341 while leading the way with 30 hits, seven doubles and six stolen bases.

Freshman infielder Kim Lauff played in 23 games and hit .333 with 12 runs and a teams-best three triples. Fellow newcomer and infielder Brooke Bennetch batted .310 in 29 games with team-highs in both runs (17) and RBI's (17).

Jessica Post started all 29 games and saw time at second base, center fielder and on the mound. The sophomore and leadoff batter hit .318 with 28 hits, nine runs, seven RBI's and five stolen bases. She also went 1-3 with four strikeouts in 17 innings pitched.

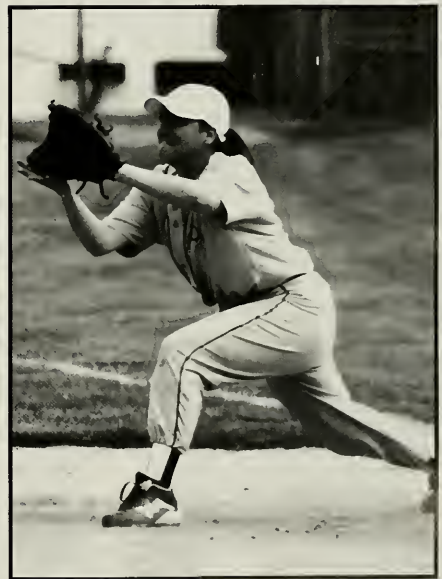

Lorie Kochanski was the only senior on the team and saw a brilliant career come to an end. Kochanski saw action at pitcher, second base and centerfield in 1998 and batted .298 with 14 runs, eight RBI's and four doubles. She also picked up wins on the mound along with 26 strikeouts.

Kochanski ends her career with the fifth-highest batting average (.360) in Aggies softball history. She holds the all-time records with 83 RBI's and 33 doubles while also occupying the single-season marks for hits 94 in 1995, RBI's (36 in 1995) and doubles (13 in 1995 and 1997). Kochanski owns or shares five single-game records and is tied for and NCAA Division III record with four doubles in 1997 game versus Allentown.

Junior pitcher/infielder Kim Cooper rejoined the Aggies after a one-year absence and won two games while striking out 26. She also batted .275 with seven runs and eight RBI's.

Junior's Lisa Cascone and Liz Lyons played in 23 and 27 games respectively. Cascone, a first basemen, hit .233 with 11 runs and 10 RBI's while Lyons, a catcher, batted .219 with 14 hits and five runs.

Freshmen outfielders Kim Robell and Netasha Lyons rounded out the Delaware Valley roster. Robell started 23 games and hit .216 with 13 runs and seven RBI's. Lyons played in 14 games with seven starts and recorded two hits on the year.

Lisa Cascone is ready to receive the ball for a put out.

Story by KDB and Matt Levy. The Delaware Valley College men's and women's track and field teams recently completed its 1998 season by competing at the Middle Atlantic Conference Championships. Both teams, under first-year head coach Dave Ragone, finished eighth in the 10-team tournament with men racking up 27 points and the women scoring 23.

The Aggies sent 20 competitors to the MAC's and had seven individuals score points. The team also placed in the 4x100 meter relay on both sides.

Leading the way for the men was junior Nate Bradshaw who placed in the top eight in three individual events, including a first-place finish in the 400-meter dash (49.06). Bradshaw also took second in the 200-meter dash (22.26) and eighth in the long jump (20-3.75).

Bradshaw was also a member of the Delaware Valley 4x100 relay team, along with junior Johnnie Figueroa, freshman Pat Hardy and sophomore Jon Hoxworth that finished fifth with a time of 44.52 seconds. Freshman Brian Mattoi and Glenn Gray fared well in their first conference championship. Mattoi placed sixth in the shotput with a throw of 40 feet, 11 inches while Gray finished eighth in the javelin with a toss of 176 feet, four inches.

On the women's side, freshman Jamie Hill made an immediate impact for the Aggies as she captured the 100-meter hurdles title with a time of 16.45 seconds. Hill also placed eighth in the 400-meter hurdles as she finished the event in one minute, 13.28 seconds.

The Aggies had three of the eight placewinners in the javelin, led by Jen Mills. The sophomore took fourth in the event with a throw of 103 feet, five inches. Junior Karen Smith finished seventh with a toss of 86 feet, two inches while an 83 foot, four inch throw by junior Jaime LaTourette was good enough for eighth. Smith also placed eighth in the shotput with a distance of 33 feet, 3.5 inches.

Hill and LaTourette, along with freshman Atiya Clayton and Alexis Metzger placed sixth in the 4x100 relay with a time of 53.25 seconds.

Delaware Valley finished the regular with a 5-3 record for the men and a 4-4 mark for the women.

Story by KDB. Although the weather was cold and wet, this year's Homecoming was still a great success. DVC Renaissance was displayed excellently throughout the week's events. The week's festivities began with a medieval banquet held in the APR so the candidates could be introduced and receive their sashes. The menu by Wood company had everything a Medieval Feast would have. Dakkota graced us with their presence once again as the entertainment for the Pep Rally on Friday night. This year the Pep Rally was held on the basketball courts behind security and fireworks were set off over the football field. The crowd was large and everyone enjoyed the country tunes they sang. Unfortunately, for all the hard working and dedicated students who worked on the floats for endless hours, the parade was rained out. The football game was an excitement for all, as the Aggies kept the opposing team looking over their shoulders. Halftime ceremony went on without delay with all queen candidates donning flower halos and king candidates boutonniere done by the Floral Society. Once again, as Del Val tradition goes this year's Homecoming celebration came out shining through the cloudy skies.

The traditional pig roast was not rained out by any means, however, this year it was sponsored by Delta Epsilon Beta.

Our beloved mascot, Caesar, shows his school spirit by coming out in the rain to be at the game. Sophomore Jason Swallow takes time out of his busy schedule to take good care of him. Do we see a pattern here? Umbrellas are numerous due to the weather, but are a great help in keeping those watching the game dry. Photos by TDB.

Halloween Haunting

Halloween Haunting was again another big success this year despite the rain and cold weather. The 8th Annual Event took use of the 78 year old Haunted Lasker Hall, the Horticulture Building as the horrid Cider Mill, a trip through Haunted Woods and a spooky Haunted Hayride. The event was again chaired by Greg Hinderliter with four chairpersons: Peter

Dixon, Katherine Kreymborg, Jules Abercauph and Korin Mediate. The whole event was sponsored by the Student Government Board. This year's haunting hosted a scholarship benefit, which raised $7,300 which was due partly to the enormous crowd on Saturday night, the line stretched from Lasker Hall past the Allman Building and down Alumni

Lane.

Thirteen clubs participated in the Haunted Hayride providing hair raising skits. They were each judged on all four nights by faculty members. The Landscape Nursery took first place with Tree Swingers. Second place went to Alpha Gamma Rho for Farm Safety 101 and Block and Bridle came in third for The Hospital.

Halloween Haunting went well this year due to all the students who volunteered their time. Hopefully next year will be as big of a success.

This Lasker Hall Haunter is going to get some ghostly revenge. In the Haunted Mansion Pete Dixon and Kristen Hughes plague their victims with goosebumps.

These DVC students joined the graveyard of the Cider Mill for some frightening antics.

Sue Krudz, a Del Val housekeeper, does her part in making Halloween Haunting a scary event.

Ghosts of the Dark at DVC

Babes In Toyland

Story by KDB. On the evening of December 6, 1997, many of the Del Val Community came to the beautifully decorated APR for the Annual Event of the Winter Semi-Formal. As tradition, the dinner dance is sponsored by the Student Government Board. This year's theme came from a play, Babes In Toyland. Students, faculty, administration, and staff were able to mingle together in a setting of holiday cheer. Many were seen chatting and laughing the night away as the music played and dinner was served. Again as tradition goes at DVC, the event was a great success put together by those of DVC both young and old.

Winter Semi-Formal

Senior Christi Antonelly gives a big smile to let us know that she is enjoying the evening tremendously.

President and Mrs. Leamer enjoy the night using the time to relax and fellowship with many students.

As you can see hardworking students put effort into decorating the APR for the occasion.

Kayte Denslow and her date delight in a romantic evening.

Story by KDB. The Mardi Gras celebration of New Orleans came to Delaware Valley College on March 28, 1998 for the Spring Formal in collaboration with a Masquerade for all to enjoy. This year the event was wonderfully sponsored and put on by the Class of 1999.

The APR was transformed into the streets of New Orleans with a fountain, windows, and lamp-posts with street signs. At one point you could be on Bourbon Street and at another you were at the French Quarter. The feeling was brought alive through the decorative masks given to each person attending and the delicious cajun dishes that everyone was given the option to choose from.

For added enjoyment there was a blocked off casino area called Cajun Court. It consisted of a Blackjack table and a Roulette table where faculty, staff, and administration worked as dealers and cashiers. Prizes were awarded to the top three "winners". $100 went to Adam Amaral and the two $25 gift certificates to Borders went to Borders went to Alex Szarka and Lisa Shestko.

At the end of it all the event was enjoyed by everyone as they laughed, danced, and had a great time.

Story by KDB. On Wednesday, April 8, 1998 the class schedule was modified for the Founder's Day celebration. This year it was held in the James Work Gymnasium. The invocation was given by Dr. William Barger of Doylestown Presbyterian Church followed by Dr. Neil Vincent giving the welcome and introductions.

Many awards were given to faculty, staff, administration and students. Mr. Larry Hepner, Dr. Linda Kuehl and Peg Hinkel were recognized with the 20 Yr. Service Award and Dr. Joseph Stenson received the Harleysville Professorship Award. The Student Government Founder's Day Awards went to: Dr. Ben Rusiloski (Faculty), Wendy Harvey

The recipient of the award was Carrie McGill.

Congratulations to all who were recognized for all their hard work and dedication to the Delaware Valley College Community.

Inaugural Convocation of President Leamer

Story by KDB. Aside from the traditional Founder's Day Celebration, this year the inauguration of Dr. Thomas Leamer as President of Delaware Valley College took place. Dr. Thomas Leamer was elected May 20, 1998 as the eleventh President by the Board of Trustees.

President Leamer was presented with a Presidential Medallion by Dr. Joshua Feldstein. The medallion is symbolic of the Office of the President of DVC. It is worn by the President during academic convocations as a sign of leadership responsibilities vested in that office. The seal of Delaware Valley College forms the center and represents the ideals and heritage on which the College was founded. Inscribed on the medallion is "Vir Vita" (continued on next page)

Terra"--"Power, Life, Earth." In his speech, President Leamer touched upon DVC's past, present, and future and how we all need to be "leaders of change and not followers of ideas of others".

He stated that we must always look to what is ahead and that the only way to tie the past and the present together is to look at the future. Dr. Leamer posed three questions for all to think on: (1) "Where are we going?" (2) "How will we get there?" and (3) "How will we know when we have arrived?" Every thing he mentioned was true and from the heart. His final thoughts were 4 points on what we should do: "Dare to Dream, Be Bold, Think Big, and to Follow Through." He talked about what some of the priorities were for the next 5 years and to bring us all to the same chapter of Del Val. Family, friends, colleagues and students attended this joyous event to officially welcome President Leamer.

50th Annual A-Day

April 25-26, 1998

Story by KDB. This year's A-Day celebration was a tribute to the past 50 years of this annual event unique to Delaware Valley College. As usual, students along with faculty, staff and administration came together to create the 50th A-Day that no one would forget.

From the booths and club room displays to the tents and equipment, things went smoothly on preparing for the crowds of people that were sure to show up at Del Val on the 25th and 26th. Having the Friday before A-Day with no classes, many took this time to help the committee in putting up the tents and getting everything ready to go the next morning. When Saturday arrived everyone was excited and raring to go.

Many got up early to do last minute preparations on their animals that they would be showing in the livestock show as well as others who went to do last minute preps for the booths and room displays. The Block & Bridle and Dairy Society displays are famous for having animals in theirs for the adults and kids alike to see and enjoy. Others have plants that need to be watered or posters that need to be put up. The students work hard and put forth excellence in talent and teamwork for this one weekend.

As entertainment this year, the Cultural Leaders Coalition brought The Showtime Steppers, a step team from Philadelphia to perform. Several spectators gathered around to watch the energetic performance done by the numerous members of the group. Also for entertainment there was a concert in the APR by Love Seed Mama Jump sponsored by SAC and the concert in lieu of the dance between the dorms of Fragrance of Life which was sponsored by Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship and SGB.

Many came from all around to celebrate this 50th Anniversary and they all had a great time despite rainy weather on Sunday.

As Del Val tradition continues so does one of the most anticipated events of the year--A-Day.

Brian Sharer and Bryan Champluvier show their dairy heifers. Students taking Principles of Dairy Science are required to show at A-Day.

Fragrance of Life, a christian band, performed Saturday night before the dance between the dorms.

The Showtime Steppers performed on the quad. These girls surely strut their stuff to an awesome beat.

1998 Court of Dedication

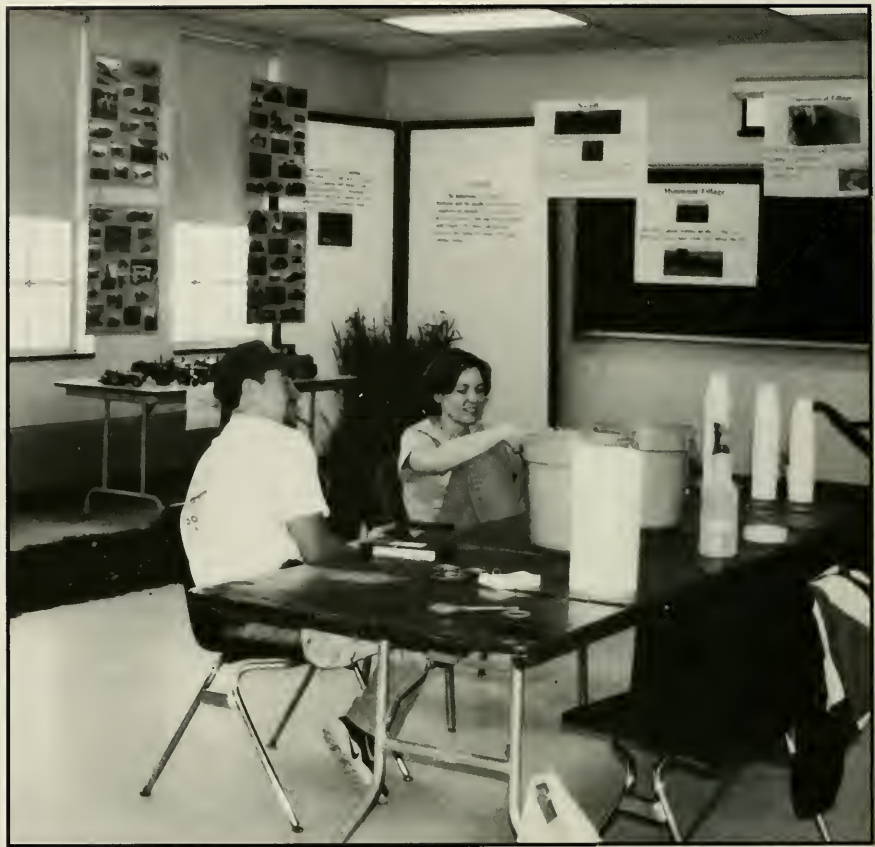

Dedicatee: Dr. Joshua Feldstein

The 1998 A-Day Committee dedicated this golden anniversary celebration to Dr. Joshua Feldstein. Dr. Feldstein (who, incidently, participated in the first A-Day!) has served his alma mater tirelessly and faithfully as a professor, administrator, President and Trustee. His exuberance for all things Green and Gold is unparalleled and matched only by his boundless caring for Delaware Valley College---its students, faculty and staff. The Dairy Society display featured what else, but milk! It does a body good. One of the contest categories for the flower show was a birthday party. Above: After a hard game of soccer Brain Loucks and Geno Finan leave the field cold, wet, and tired.

Right: Need a lift. Michelle Taylor tries to scare the people on the tree swing during Halloween Haunting.

Top: Through the years our school has taken on many names. The first names being The National Farm School which turned into Delaware Valley College of Science and Agriculture.

Below: In between classes, Lisa Melham and Bridget O'Donnell talk about what they are doing for the weekend.

Above: To get some rest and relaxation, people can take a walk around Lake Archer or sit in the gazebo or on the patio built nearby.
